

Course No. and Title	26. CULTURAL DIVERSITY COMPETENCY &amp; CHARACTER BUILDING FOR ATHLETES &amp; SPORT PROFESSIONALS
Best For	Athletes of all ages and sports, coaches, parents of athletes, spectators, sport medicine professionals, referees, consultants, team managers,
Description	Sports team at the youth clubs, high school, colleges and universities, and professional levels are increasingly becoming multicultural in both the composition of the U.S. different ethnic groups and in the diversity of international athletes. This creates an urgent need to develop innovative and enduring intercultural and character competencies that will ensure equitable interactions between coaches, athletes, parents and spectators. How do we examine the influence of cultural patterns in athletes' life in social environments such as practice and interactions with other players, but also in sport performance? How do we develop an intercultural approach to sport interactions that brings inclusion excellence to competitive environment? This workshop focuses on strategies for developing innovative and enduring intercultural structures in sports.

What People Say About This Workshop	It's too bad when people hear the word "diversity" they are immediately turned off. This was an excellent presenter and presentation. Those people that didn't attend really missed out on a worthwhile hour and ½. It is good to be reminded that we all are different and do not see things the same way. Thank you! Seminar Attendee
Just a reminder!	Tolerance is the greatest gift of the mind; it requires the same effort of the brain that it takes to balance oneself on a bicycle. Helen Keller
